

You, Too, Can Use OCLC Macros

Demonstration 2: Write Your Own Macro

Carrie Preston
EGL-IUG 2009

Your macro should look like the text below the line.
You can change the highlighted text to something of your liking, but the non-highlighted text (including punctuation marks) should not be changed.

---

```
'MacroName: EGLIUGdemo2
'MacroDescription: second demonstration macro for EGLIUG2009
```

```
Sub Main
```

```
Dim CS As Object
Set CS = CreateObject("Connex.Client")

CS.AddField "500 This is my added field."

CS.DeleteField "300", 1

MsgBox "My macro just ran."
```

```
End Sub
```